Annual Parkmead Community Summer Block Party – Sept. 14

It is that time of the year again for the Annual Parkmead Summer Block Party and BBQ on Sunday, September 14 from 1:00pm-4:00pm on Maple Lane. This is an event for all residents of Parkmead, so bring your neighbors along for what will be a great afternoon of food and LIVE music.

Our party is held on Maple Lane (off Magnolia Way) across the street from Parkmead Elementary School. We will be serving hamburgers, hot dogs, and drinks all provided by the Parkmead Community Association. Please consider bringing a salad, dessert or a favorite dish of your own (to feed approximately 10 people). We ask that you leave your four-legged friends at home, but want you to come enjoy the festivities. There will be chairs to relax in, tables to dine at, and activities for the kids. Thank you to our fellow community residents living on Maple Lane for letting us use their street. Hope to see you there!

Message from the PCA President

Your Board has been involved in quite a number of projects this year. One way to see what is new around Parkmead is to log on to our website, parkmead.org. Our site continues to grow and contains much valuable information. I suggest you take a few minutes and explore it. We have an events calendar, neighborhood news, photos, past newsletters and many helpful links.

On May 10th we participated with the Parkmead Elementary School and the Hillside Covenant Church to work on a community cleanup day. Gardening work was done at the school and many of us worked at repairing the Newell Avenue Path. This winter the path will be much more traversable.

On June 6th we had a very successful Community Garage Sale. We had over 50 homes participation this year. I want to thank Chris Sherwood for once again making our neighborhood as popular a shopping destination as Broadway Plaza for a day.

Walk to School Week: October 6 to 10

Once again, the Parkmead Community Association will be joining with Parkmead Elementary School and with other schools around the world to celebrate International Walk to School Week - October 6th to 10th, 2008.

Last year over half of the Parkmead kids joined in and walked or biked to school along with parents, teachers, neighbors and also the Mayor of Walnut Creek.

This year we plan to have Walking School Buses starting from Arlene Lane, the top of Magnolia Way and from Dewing Park. So please arrange with your kids, friends and neighbors to meet up with each other and walk together with plenty of time to get to school.

Come and join us on Monday October 6th with your kids, your dogs or just yourselves and meet your neighbors, get a free balloon, some exercise and some fresh air, help save the environment and make Parkmead an even friendlier place to live. For more information, please contact Tony Phillips at a.n.phillips@att.net.

School is back in session. Drive carefully.

PCA Appeal To City Council

On August 5, the Parkmead Community Association's Appeals Team presented an appeal to the City Council for the Design Review Commission approval of a proposed new 4,660 square foot house at 1509 Arbutus Drive, near the corner of Lilac. Walnut Creek's city codes and general plan require that in-fill development be designed similar in character and scale to that of homes in the surrounding area. The intent of the appeal was to request that the City of Walnut Creek work with residents to develop neighborhood character standards to guide this and future Parkmead development. Video of the appeal presentation and Council discussion is available at www.parkmead.org and on Walnut Creek's city website.

Our Appeals Team did a fantastic and professional job. Thanks to our research team Ann Hinshaw, Tom Sheridan, Mary Andre, Terri Almeida, Sue Chan, and Joe Huettl; and a special thank you to Troi Nelson, who integrated the team's research into a well thought out and highly organized appeal presentation script, to PCA board member Francine Podenski for acting as the spokesperson at City Council, and to Steve Nelson for his outstanding and professional PowerPoint production that accompanied the presentation.

For those not able to attend, the council chamber was filled with 30 to 40 Parkmead neighbors who came to show their support. Senior City Planner Ken Nodder, explained why city staff recommended denying the appeal. Developer Mark Scott's representative, Chris Trent, stated that they worked closely with immediate neighbors to design the proposed home, that they had complied with all city codes and zoning requirements, and urged Council to deny the appeal. Parkmead Community Association spokesperson, Francine Podenski, described Parkmead's neighborhood character, explained how the proposed Arbutus home is inconsistent with Parkmead character, and requested that the City of Walnut Creek follow its General Plan and work closely with residents to establish neighborhood character standards that guide this and future development. Several Parkmead neighbors spoke in support of the appeal. Almond Shuey neighbor, Tom O'Brien, urged City Council to preserve the character of neighborhoods adjacent to Walnut Creek's rapidly developing downtown core area. After discussion, Walnut Creek City Council members expressed support for the developer and voted unanimously (5-0) to deny the appeal.

The Appeals Team had hoped that City Council would direct staff to work with Parkmead residents to establish neighborhood character standards to guide development in the Parkmead neighborhood. Council members felt it would be impossible to define Parkmead's neighborhood character. Though the entire neighborhood is located within Walnut Creek's designated planning area and sphere of influence, Council members also brought up the fact that most of us (400 out of 600 homes) are in the county and not located within city limits. Thus, Council was unwilling to expend September 14th will be the Parkmead Community Association summer Block Party. This is the Parkmead social event of the season. We will have live music this year and lots of things for the children to do so bring the whole family. We are able to do this without increasing dues because some of you decided to make donations in addition to dues. We thank you for this and urge you to continue your generosity. This event is important because the warm and casual atmosphere is perfect for getting to know your neighbors and it provides an opportunity for the PCA Board members to get your thoughts on our neighborhood. Please look at the announcement in this newsletter and plan to attend.

PCA membership continues to grow. As of this date we have 211 households that have joined the Association. Even with our growth and the remarkably low dues rate of $12 per year, only about one in three households are members so we still have a lot of growth potential. If you have not joined the Association for this year, please do so.

Your Association is constantly looking at ways to further the quality of life in the neighborhood and we need your help. We have more ideas than resources so if you want the opportunity to contribute to your community and work with some quality people, talk to a Board member about how you might get involved.

city funds or staff time to establish Parkmead neighborhood character standards or on a specific plan similar to the one done for Northgate, which is also within both the city and county limits.

Although unsuccessful with our appeal, we learned a great deal about how the Walnut Creek City Council views the Parkmead neighborhood and what we can do in the future to represent our neighborhood on issues that affect all of its residents. In the process of preparing the appeal to the City Council, we learned that several cities across the nation have developed neighborhood plans. The neighborhood and the city usually work together to develop mutually agreed upon standards that define the neighborhood in order to preserve its unique characteristics. The PCA Board will look at this option and others with the neighborhood in coming months. If you have suggestions or comments contact us at parkmead@parkmead.org.

After Pinky's and Sunrise – What Happens Next?

As Pinky's Pizza and Sunrise Catering/Barbeque disappear from S. California Blvd. at Newell, what happens next? These longtime tenants are letting their leases expire as of Sept. 30. Pinky's, there since 1962, is going out of business Aug 31. The "new" barbeque place is moving to Sunrise Bistro near Ross store and Sunrise Catering is relocating. High rents and the issue of who pays for upgrading utilities drove them away. In addition the corner gas station is willing to sell for a rumored $4 million, way over market value and needing environmental cleanup.

Options include new tenants moving in or the property being sold. If the owner sells, will the gas station—which is owned by someone else—go? Kaiser owns the two-story office building facing Newell and the surface parking lot by the freeway. Past rumors said Kaiser wanted to buy it all and build a parking garage, but that may no longer be a priority for them.

If someone wants to build on the site, the City will be involved in the review process. Under the General Plan, Parkmead is to be consulted on traffic impacts. Our role may be unofficial, as it was when Trader Joe's went in and we got directional signs pointing traffic away from Newell. Or it may trigger something more official like a "specific plan," wherein we would have a more official role. In any event, the City would most likely address traffic, street and creek setbacks, pedestrian and bike use, and view corridors of Mt. Diablo. Height limits are 35' where Pinky's, Sunrise and the gas station are and the remainder of the property (Kaiser office building and surface parking lot back to 680) is at 50'. The main block (Trader Joe's, Ross etc) is all 50' potential.

The PCA Board and its Development Committee will be monitoring this and will keep you informed, including updating the website, using our email list if appropriate and future newsletters.

Neighborhood Survey

There is a strong feeling among PCA Board members that we can take more assured positions on behalf of the neighborhood if we take a survey to learn resident opinions on several subjects related to the Parkmead neighborhood. We expect to start work on the survey questions in the next few months and welcome participation of any interested residents in both preparing and implementing the survey. If you are interested in working on this, please contact parkmead@parkmead.org

Protect Your Home...and Your Neighbor's Home!

In April, I wrote about the importance of having an automatic gas shut-off valve installed on one's gas meter. An automatic gas shut-off valve is an inexpensive way to protect you, your family and your house, not to mention your neighbors! If you happen to be away when a serious quake hits, or if you are home but lack the strength or know-how to manage the manual valve, the automated shut-off valve acts on your behalf.

Contra Costa County now requires "the installation of approved gas shut-off devices in existing residential, commercial, and industrial buildings prior to the sale of those buildings, or when additions valued at more than $15,000 are made..." (Ordinance No. 2006-44) Other counties and municipalities are likely to follow suit.

I'm pleased to announce that since April, QuakePrepare, a company which provides this and other earthquake-safety related services and products, has installed 12 shut-off valves in Parkmead.

As a result, QuakePrepare has agreed to extend the special Parkmead price of $295. If you are interested, contact Larry Guillot at 510-758-3299, or larry@quakeprepare.com. You can get more information about QuakePrepare and the valve they use on their web site, www.quakeprepare.com.
